

My Lonely Grave
Kyle Keller

Well I'm begging the sun, please don't go down
I don't want today to be a memory
Cause I know time is gonna take me
One step closer to my lonely grave

Well I see the shadows and they're moving slowly
Breaking up as the temperature falls
The crickets sing and the pale moons rising
Well it reminds me that my time is gonna come

So I'm begging the sun, please don't go down
I don't want today to be a memory
Cause I know time is gonna take me
One step closer to my lonely grave

Springtime comes and there's flowers blooming
I guess true beauty just comes and goes
Well they say nothing will last forever
Guess were no different than the following rain and snow

So I'm begging the sun, please don't go down
I don't want today to be a memory
Cause I know time is gonna take me
One step closer to my lonely grave

Oh I know time is gonna take me
One step closer to my lonely grave
